Oklahoman Wizard of Skies Conquers Fog and Rain in Crossing Bering Sea in 16 and One-half Hours—Has Most Difficult Leg of Aerial Journey Behind Him

FLIER MAY REACH HERE IN NIGHT

All the lights at the city airport will be turned on at dark to guide Post in, it was announced by Captain James A. Bell, airport manager. If Post elects to fly on over the tangled wilderness watersheds of the Alaska-Yukon-Northwest Territories country, starting from Fairbanks at approximately 2 p.m. Edmonton time, he will be here shortly after midnight, Thursday, it is estimated.

NOME, Alaska, July 20.—Conquering fog and rain, Winnie Mae Post, Oklahoman globe girder, flashed over Nome at 7:30 a.m. Nome time (1:30 p.m. E.S.T.) today and headed his fast plane, the Winnie Mae, towards Fairbanks, 500 miles inland.

Crossing Bering Sea, Post was believed to have the most difficult leg of his aerial journey around the world behind him.

He took off from Khabarovsk, eastern Siberia, 30 hours and 10 minutes ahead of the record he and Harold Gatty set in 1931 when they flew from New York in eight days, 15 hours and 51 minutes.

Due in Fairbanks in about three hours, Post then would have but 3,600 miles of his 10,400-mile route left. From Fairbanks he planned to fly 1,450 miles to Edmonton, Alberta, and then have a 2,200-mile jump to New York.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Officers of the United States coast guard cutter Northland advised headquarters today they believed Jimmy Mattern, round-the-world aviator, had departed from Anadyr, Siberia, for Nome, Alaska, in a Russian seaplane.

The Northland said it had picked up a message from Anadyr saying a seaplane flown by aviator Levantovsky was "flying today five hours 32 minutes in Nome."

This message, the Northland said, indicated Mattern had left Anadyr with Levantovsky.

The Northland reported, however, that it had received no word of a plane landing at Nome and would endeavor to verify its belief that the flyers were enroute to Alaska.

Seeking To Have Helen McPherson Named Defendant

George H. Van Allen, K.C., Launches Initial Case Before Mr. Justice Frankford in Supreme Court Chambers. Thursday Is Successful in Having Motion Allowed.

Initial steps to have Helen McPherson named as co-defendant with her husband, Hon. O. L. McPherson, in the suit alleging collusion and asking nullification of the divorce, were taken today by Mr. Justice Frankford in Supreme Court chambers on Thursday morning.

Mr. Van Allen, who is acting for Mrs. Helen McPherson, former wife of the provincial minister of justice, was successful in having motion allowed to enter his motion, which he agreed to by the court when it came up for hearing in the fall, may result in Helen McPherson being called to enter her defence in the suit started by the first wife. The present wife of Mr. McPherson did not testify at the hearing of the case, which lasted three weeks, and provided some of the most sensational evidence heard in Alberta court.

Mr. Justice Ford dismissed the action brought by Mrs. Helen McPherson, in a judgment handed down a few days ago, removing the matter of costs and also an application under the Domestic Relations Act.

When Mr. Van Allen appeared before Mr. Justice Ford on Thursday, however, he asked for postponement.

LIGHTNING FIRES DESTROY TIMBER

CALGARY, July 20.—Forest fire last night had burned four square miles of timbered country on Pigeon mountain in the west of Calgary. The conflagration was believed to have started by lightning. More than 40 firefighters were battling the flames in an effort to prevent further spread into valuable timber country. Rain which swept the area last night was believed to have aided greatly in bringing the flames under control.

AMUSEMENTS

STRAND
A bright, young British musical comedy which moves at an easy swing and allows romance, humor and song to blend happy proportions. Although it is a musical, it is great. It is Jack Roberts, in a comedy characterization, who is the bit of the show. He holds it together and sees that the entertainment seldom flags. The production qualities are good and there is a tuneful musical score which is made full use of by the producers. A musical show which stands a capital chance of making a definite hit.

CULBERTSON'S CREW STAGES BIG COMEBACK

American Team Closes Gap in Sensational Contract Scoring

By OSCAR LEIDING
Associated Press Staff Writer
LONDON, July 20.—The American team led by Ely Culbertson staged a spectacular comeback to advance within 200 points of the English team as the International bridge match of 200 duplicate boards for a trophy posted by Charles M. Schwab reached the halfway mark last night. The scores at the conclusion of 150 boards were:
English, 46,520
United States, 45,720

The third day's play fluctuated widely, the British team at one time reaching a lead of 3,200, but the Americans, hammering away with daring offensives reduced the figure.

MAYBE HAD LUCK

"But maybe he had the luck," he added. A hot day rendered the enclosed rooms in which the games were played uncomfortable, but relief was found in an improvised cooling system consisting of fans blowing across tables of play. On one hand, the Culbertson team was playing a three no trump, there were three good spades in the dummy, headed by an ace, top, which Culbertson led after much study.

Sir Guy Donville, of the British team, shrugged his shoulders as to how to throw in his hand at which Culbertson said, "Thanks, very much, 'Theodore A. Lightfoot' led to 'spade quickly'."

The Americans reaped 800 points in penalties on the following hand:

It's Something More For Hitler To Worry Over

VIENNA, July 20.—An argument is being waged by Vienna newspapers over the question of whether Chancellor Hitler's grandmother was Jewish or Aryan. For the past week the boulevard sheets of the Fascist Heimwehr (a government supporter) have been splashing their front pages with the German Chancellor's family tree. Photographs of a tombstone and of a family album and copies of Jewish archives have been published as evidence Hitler's family came from a ghetto in Poland.

The more conservative dailies, however, pointed out the alleged lineage, and today even the Socialist Allgemeine Zeitung, which for months has been conducting a bitter campaign against Nazi Germany, published the result of its own investigation of the effect that Hitler is an Aryan.

BLAIR, Neb., July 20.—Funeral services were held here Wednesday for the infant child of Mrs. Raymond T. Blair, 18, of Blair. The baby died Tuesday morning in an Omaha hospital and Mrs. Blair carried the dead child in her arms, hitch-hiked from Omaha to Blair so that the child might be buried here. The distance is 18 miles.

Arriving Tuesday night, Mrs. Blair entered a mortuary. "He's dead," she said, pointing to the body of the child, "you bury him."

The undertaker buried the child without charge.

HOPE TO SALVAGE LUSITANIA GOLD

CHICAGO, July 20.—A plan to salvage the treasure reportedly on the liner Lusitania, sunk by a German submarine during the war, was revealed Wednesday by Charles Courtney, president of the American Association of Master Locksmiths.

Courtney, who is enroute to Cleveland, said work will begin in the liner in the case off the Irish coast as soon as weather conditions are favorable. Although the ship's manifest, published shortly after the sinking, listed no gold, the amount of metal aboard has been variously estimated from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000, Courtney said.

movements which are seeking to establish co-operation by political and educational means. We regard these as an expression of the wide and profound aspiration of the Canadian people for just and better social change. If this is interpreted as referring to the C.C.F. it can also be applied to many other movements such as The League for Social Reconstruction, the League of Nations Society, the Movement for a Christian Social Order, the Robert Owen Foundation, and other co-operative movements, and certain labor organizations. It would also include such experiments in public ownership as The Ontario Hydro, The Toronto Transportation and the Canadian Radio Commissions. Surely at this time when bloody revolution is threatened from some quarters and feared "where it is not out of place for a religious host to express a preference for 'political and educational means' in producing 'just and orderly social change'."

The Conference was no legislative authority, nor did it attempt in any way to bind the conscience or control the political action of any minister or member of the church. The United Church is a democratic body and recognizes the right of no Conference or other church body to do any such thing. The Conference expressed its judgment, interpreting present social conditions in the light of spirit and teaching of Jesus. The only authority any such declaration can have is its power to appeal to the enlightened Christian conscience.

—The Conference did not express the conviction that the application of principles of Jesus would mean the end of the capitalist system. By the capitalist system is meant that order which Capital is owned and administered by individuals and special groups with a view to their own profit.

The Conference did call the Church to unswerving faith in a moral and spiritual sense of duty. It declared that while the present Capitalism controlled by private hands diverted to private profit and aggrandizement, control in a Christian Social Order will be exercised for the general welfare and production for the common good.

—The suggestion that the resolution was passed on a snap vote by a fragment of the conference is a democratic body and recognizes the right of no Conference or other church body to do any such thing. The Conference expressed its judgment, interpreting present social conditions in the light of spirit and teaching of Jesus. The only authority any such declaration can have is its power to appeal to the enlightened Christian conscience.

It is hoped that this statement will, to some extent, at least, remove misleading impressions that have been created, and enable the public to discuss fairly the issues involved.

1933 Cycle!—Bank To Beer Hall

REPUBLIC DAILY

Here's a trade cycle in one picture. Once it was a Beverly Hills, Calif., bank. Now it's an amusement park, with the roof sign to be replaced by a new arrangement.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

"And for another fifty cents," cooed the stoutheaded lady in the tortoise-telling tent on the midway at the Exhibition, "it will be folded to you your great possibilities as I see them in your left hand. Right and left hand each have different stories to tell, you know."

With a muffled "Oh, yes," the Bulletin's R. proceeded on his way despite the fact that his future would remain veiled in mystery until "another fifty cents" was forthcoming. The first fifty cents tapped the untold riches of one part of his makeup which included love for love's sake, live in a home without a mortgage, no manual labor, live a life of continued prosperity and, last but not least, receive a legacy of some forty-second cousin. It all sounded swell but the Inquiring Reporter thought it was time to ask for the other fifty cents.

Thinking others might have a different slant on the subject, he approached the following persons and asked them if it was their opinion, fortune-telling, tea cup reading and other allied arts, in all reliable. Here are the answers he received:

R. O. LUCAS, Confectioner: "One time a young man came in and knew many things but we keep readers have understood in raising people their future. I recall one incident where a couple came in to get their tea cup read. They were told they were going to be married. They were told they were going to be married. They were told they were going to be married."

GEORGE MANNING, Variety Man: "You can't predict what I think about the whole works of them."

RONNY STANLEY, Baseball Player: "I know of one man who is still playing his little heart out and looking for an ideal. I'm a man and fortune on the strength of some story she was told by a fortune teller, expert over two years ago. What a few days have to do about settling the future I don't know but some people certainly take it to heart."

CARL HARTMAN, cook: "One time a fortune teller worked on me and succeeded in getting two dollars for an ideal reading. After this she said that for three dollars more she would tell me everything. Two dollars for that kind of story was enough and I did not bite for the rest, consequently I am still in the dark as to my future. I'm going to stay that way, too."

BILL BAXTER, student: "I think that in these times people are more apt to believe in such things as fortune telling and fortune telling as a way of satisfying themselves that there is a way out. They like to think there is something in their future. You will notice when things pick up in other lines, mystics will begin to learn about depression. I don't swallow much of their stuff."

WEATHER TURNS FINE THURSDAY

Intermittent rain on Wednesday morning and cloudy skies in the afternoon did little to keep crowds away from the exhibition, with attendance figures just 327 below those of the same day last year.

But fairer skies and weather bulletins gave an outlook for fine weather Thursday.

Yesterday's total rainfall was 10.3 inches, coupled with the first of the rainy spell, which commenced at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, brought the total rain up to 17.3 inches.

The barometer was steady at 27.75 inches of mercury.

SLIGHT DECREASE FAIR ATTENDANCE

On Wednesday, which was "Citizens' Day" at the annual exhibition, a total of 27,529 passed through the gates and turnstiles. This is a decrease of 327 from figures for the corresponding day of 1932, when total attendance was 28,047.

Attendance for the first three days of this week is greater than for the same period in 1932. The total for the first three days is 83,887, as against 80,919 in 1932.

Bungling Burglars Are Frustrated

Two bungling burglars who failed in their attempt to rob the exhibition grounds Wednesday night were caught by police. They jumped over the front window of the office and crawled through to open the door. All went well until one of them rang a "no sign" bell and the bell on the door rang a warning to G. Crockett, post-attendant, who resides in a room off the office.

He jumped into his clothes and ran out into the office just in time to see the midnight marauders take a beautiful watch and diamond bracelet and a small box of jewelry.

Then Shrimpy said, "It was a trick! Wee Duncy thought it would be a trick to ride instead of walk. He is a very lazy lad. I think, with this experience, he'll change his mind, unless he's damn. Right now to take a nice long walk, he really should be glad."

The Tioles then said to the ground and suddenly they looked surprised as Shrimpy cried, "Look out! We've found a real good way to ride."

Just watch us as we while right past. We've found a horse that

Then Golly cried, "Glad! Don't worry! We're anxious to keep on the go! We'll show the other Tioles what a real good ride is like."

"This shell is comfy as can be and very much appeals to me. As long as I have this fine carriage, I don't want to hike."

MANIFESTO IS PUBLISHED FOR NATION GUIDANCE

Four Thousand Word Epistle Outlines Socializing of Dominion

By SAM G. ROSS
 Creation Press staff writer
 REGINA, July 20.—What the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation seeks for its new Dominion of Canada and how it aims to achieve its reforms in new times to the nation.

In a 4,000 word manifesto issued on the opening of the first national convention of the organization here today the C.C.F. outlines its program for a national planning commission to guide the nation in its transition, both in its internal and external relations, and set forth the changes.

Under the new regime which the organization hopes to establish after the next federal election when it will seek governmental power, banking and insurance would be socialized and gradually socialization would be extended to transportation.

TRANSFORMATION FIRST

First of the industrial revolution came under public control would be transportation, communication and electric power production. It would be followed by mining, pulp and paper distribution and coal and gasoline. New policies for foreign trade and external affairs would be established and the system of taxation would be radically altered.

Throughout it all would be a new capitalism in the new nation. "No C.C.F. government will content itself until it has eradicated capitalism."

In the type of economy that the C.C.F. declares, the "new capitalism" would be a new type of capitalism. It would be a new type of capitalism in which the state would be the owner of the means of production and distribution. It would be a new type of capitalism in which the state would be the owner of the means of production and distribution. It would be a new type of capitalism in which the state would be the owner of the means of production and distribution.

Complete Repeal of Prohibition Amendment Predicted Before End '33

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 20.—On the basis of the Alabama and Arkansas returns, which showed that the United States prohibition amendment would be repealed before the end of the year.

For the day's work, the Anti-Saloon league, said the "real battle" would be in the 30 states in which the amendment is yet to come. He made no claim that the repeal would be in both states.

Joseph Shuman, president of the Anti-Saloon league, said the amendment would be repealed before the end of 1933. Shuman believed all 48 states would ratify the 21st amendment which repeals the 18th.

The total solar eclipse of Jan. 24, 1928, occurred but five months later than the time predicted by astronomers.

Neither of us was to indulge in a prediction during this year.

But, Barrett, I never have. I never said I could not. I never said I could not. I never said I could not.

MAUREEN O'SULLIVAN

HOLLYWOOD, July 20.—The Hollywood stars know that the old-fashioned materials which fashioned grandmother's clothes are "just right" for the new day.

Maureen O'Sullivan has a perfectly daring bathing suit of blue, yellow and white plaid gingham. The suit is lined with wool jersey which keeps Maureen warm in spite of the fact that cotton swimsuits as it would be pretty good when the winds blow on the beach.

When Dolores Del Rio and her husband, Cedric Gibbons, sailed for a vacation in Honolulu, Dolores wore a very fine black and white checked cotton broadcloth suit. The jacket had a trim little necktie and the sleeves were bouffant type.

Dolores topped that charming outfit costume with a trim little black and white fabric hat worn well over her right eyebrow.
